

Policy relating to Membership payment for members on extended sick leave and unable to play golf.

It is the policy of the Thirlstane Golf Club that a financial member may be reimbursed for part-payment of their subscription if they have not been able to play golf for at least six consecutive months of the financial year to which their subscription relates because of an extended illness or injury.

An effected member who wishes to seek re-imbusement of part of their annual subscription or who wishes to defer their subscription payment because of illness or injury which has already precluded them from playing golf for at least 6 consecutive months. shall make written application to the General Committee of the Club. Any application received shall be determined on its merits.

Any re-imbusement approved shall not include annual affiliation fees.

Where an application for re-imbusement or deferment is approved by the Committee, the applicant shall be transferred to Honorary Membership status until such time as they return to playing golf.
